Volunteer Opportunities

Interested in serving on our Council Travel Committee?

How many volunteers are we looking for? 12 volunteers with a preferred 3 volunteers from each area.

How much time involved? Monthly calls or more often if on a specific trip planning sub-committee.

How do we meet? Telephone conference calls.

Why? Girls who travel gain personal growth, improved language skills, intercultural development, and a worldly perspective, which offers a glimpse into the global community and prepares them to take their place as tomorrow's leaders. Through the Girl Scout travel program, girls embark on extraordinary adventures, make new friends, and discover who they are as leaders. We feel these are important opportunities to make available for our Girl Scouts in Central Texas, as they are impactful experiences as part of the Girl Scout formula for success.

Travel Talk

A Little Bit of Country & A Little Bit of Rock N' Roll, by GSCTX Senior Anna W.

One highlight of my trip (which happened to be my birthday) was going to the Country Music Hall of Fame which is something I've been wanting to do for a while now. As a fiddler, it was exciting to see all of the exhibits and I nearly had a heart attack when I saw the violin Charlie Daniels used to play 'The Devil Went Down to Georgia' in the movie Urban Cowboy. Seeing that violin in particular was a big deal for me, because I've seen the video of Charlie Daniels playing 'The Devil Went Down to Georgia' many times, but I never imagined that I would get to see the same violin he used.

I think that Destinations trips are a good for girls because there's so much to learn and it really teaches you how to interact with other girls from around the country. This was a great travel experience for me, as I got to know what it feels like to fly alone, and how to deal with flight problems on my own as well.

Travel Tips

If your troop is planning a summer trip to Savannah you may want to consider attending QuestFest. This rousing weekend of fun and friends also includes additional events like a movie night, a dinner cruise down the Savannah River, an unforgettable Bridging Ceremony, and so much more.
